Course Description

This class is the "capstone" to the Women's Studies major, an opportunity for four years of coursework to culminate in a substantial independent project that engages with and extends the intellectual agenda of the broad community of Women's Studies scholars. Our theme for the class will be "feminist futures". We will discuss and explore together becoming, and living, as a feminist, and what this means for your future professional and personal plans. The course assignments will represent your intellectual contribution to this topic.

Course Pre-Requisites / Co-Requisites

WST 3015 (Interdisciplinary Perspectives in Women's Studies)

Course Objectives

By the end of the course, students are expected to be able to:

- demonstrate knowledge of literature on feminist theory;
- draw on core conceptual frameworks in feminist literature, including intersectionality;
- develop research questions to build a final project;
- position themselves and their experience in relation to key debates about feminism.

These course objectives will be evidenced through assignments.

WHAT TO EXPECT: This course entails a rigorous and demanding reading load, from diverse sources. To succeed, you will need to read early and often, and take responsibility for what you do not understand by asking questions. This class requires a lot of discussion, in class and in small groups. Documentaries will be shown, and you will be given viewing/discussion guidelines.

Attendance Policy, Class Expectations, and Make-Up Policy

Attendance for this class is not graded, but please bear in mind how missing class will affect your ability to process the content and course materials. Catching up on notes is no substitute for being part of class discussions, and absence is likely to be reflected in quality of your assignments.

If you miss class, before you come and talk to me, please make sure you have completed the readings for the class you missed and reviewed notes from a classmate. Questions on readings, after you have reviewed the notes of a classmate and completed the readings on your own, are welcome and will enthusiastically be answered.

Presentations: If you are unable to attend the session to deliver your presentation, a make-up opportunity will be available during my office hours.

I expect students to participate in class discussions and pay attention. Although no “points” are assigned as part of your grade, let’s say, for example, your final grade is 89.5 (B+). If your class participation has been productive, your grade would be “bumped up” to an A-.

Assignment details

There are five assignments for this course.

1. Annotated bibliography. WEEK 4 (15 points, 15%)

You will complete an annotated bibliography that outlines five relevant resources for your project. The articles/books should be listed in chronological order, use an established citation style of your choice, and should include brief (one long paragraph) annotations that both summarizes and analyze/evaluate the work (i.e. that includes your voice as the author). See slides in Canvas for tips on how to prepare annotated bibliographies.

2. Project outline. WEEK 7 (20 points, 20%)

Your project outline should set out your research question, and how you will approach answering it. You should write this succinctly in maximum 3 pages, with a rationale for why you have chosen your research question and how it will advance knowledge on feminist futures.

3. Presentation on your project. WEEK 8 (10 points, 10%)

You will present an outline of your project to the class. This entails preparing a PowerPoint presentation and summarizing your project: research question, rationale and proposed sources. Your project is not expected to be fully developed at this stage. This is an opportunity for you to engage classmates in discussion and participate in a knowledge exchange. Points will be allocated for presentation and communication of content.

4. Evaluation Essay, 3-5 pages. WEEK 11 (25 points, 25%)

This assignment is required for all students in the Capstone class. You will be reading a selected article and then writing a "position paper" – meaning you will "position" yourself relative to the arguments the author lays out in the essay. Additional details will be provided on Canvas and discussed in class.

5. Final paper. DUE WEDNESDAY WEEK 16 (30 points, 30%)

You will prepare a final paper that reflects your engagement with feminism. The paper should be 10-15 pages, double spaced, and will include a brief overview of your research question, your analysis of the material you drawn on to answer it and reflections from the course literature (and anything else you have read). The paper will be formatted according to appropriate academic conventions, with an established citation style and clear structure. More details will be given in class and on Canvas.

Evaluation of Grades

Assignment	Points	Percentage of Final Grade
Annotated bibliography	15	15%
Project outline	20	20%
Presentation of project outline	10	10%
Evaluation essay	25	25%
Final paper	30	30%
TOTAL	100	100%

FINAL GRADE

At the end of the semester, final grades will be determined by the following formula:

94 and more points = A	80-83 points = B-	67-69 points = D+
90-93 points = A-	77-79 points = C+	64-66 points = D
87-89 points = B+	74-76 points = C	60-63 points = D-
84-86 points = B	70-73 points = C-	59 and fewer points = E

In cases where the number of points falls in between letter grades, points will be rounded to the nearest whole number.
